DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 1-70, 72-108 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention lacks patentable utility.
4. Claims 1-70, 72-108 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is not supported by either an asserted utility or a well established utility.
5. The claims are merely doing signal manipulation with no practical application; i.e. the claims manipulate only number, abstract concepts or ideas or in representing any of the foregoing, the claims are not being applied to an appropriate subject matter.
6. From MPEP 2106: "The claimed invention as a whole must accomplish a practical application. That is, it must produce a "useful, concrete and tangible result." State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373, 47 USPQ2d at 1601-02. The purpose of this requirement is to limit patent protection to inventions that possess a certain level of "real world" value, as opposed to subject matter that represents nothing more than an idea or concept, or is simply a starting point for future investigation or research (Brenner v. Manson, 383 U.S. 519, 528-36, 148 USPQ 689, 693-96); In re Ziegler, 992, F.2d 1197, 1200-03, 26 USPQ2d 1600, 1603-06 (Fed. Cir. 1993)).”

7. Also from MPEP 2106: “Merely claiming nonfunctional descriptive material stored in a computer-readable medium does not make the invention eligible for patenting.”

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

8. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

9. Claims 1-70, 72-108 are also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. Specifically, since the claimed invention is not supported by either an asserted utility or a well established utility for the reasons set forth above, one skilled in the art clearly would not know how to use the claimed invention.

10. Claims 99-108 are also rejected since they recite “An apparatus” and then “the method comprising” various means and thus it is not clear if they are apparatus claims or method claims.
